Vegware's compostable packaging is designed to be recycled together with food waste. Now we're making recycling simple, connecting you with a collection service.

GO ZERO WASTE with Vegware

Creating compost from catering waste

Vegware is working with Organic Recycling Group, to provide customers with a closed loop service for food waste and compostable packaging.

ORG's service is a competitively priced collection service that will collect your food waste and Vegware together in one bin.

ORG has a range of collection days available and will offer a 3 month trial contract to new customers referred through Vegware.

Feeding Australian Fields

Your used Vegware and food waste will be composted at an industrial composting site, creating high-grade compost in a matter of weeks.

So your catering waste will help feed Australian crops.
